The MARYLAND GAZETTE.

[XVIIIth Year.] THURSDAY, February 17, 1763. [No. 928.]

LONDON, October 14.

WE hear that the whole Ground of the Contentions which are rumoured to have happened among the Great, is only how much higher the Terms of Peace, since our late Successes, shall be raised above those which all acquiesced in before as advantageous and honourable.

October 19. It is said that Don Lewis de Velasco, who so bravely defended the Morro Castle, fell with the Spanish Colours wrapt about his Body, having publickly vowed, that he never would surrender them alive.

Letters by the Convoy from the West-Indies say, that the French Traders at Hispaniola are greatly affronted at the English not paying them a Visit at that Island, as they wish to be upon a footing with their Countrymen at Guadaloupe and Martinico.

Oct. 23. The King of Prussia hath demanded of the Jews, throughout his Dominions, a free Gift of Six Millions of Florins (about 500,000 l. Sterling.) His other Subjects are also to pay a considerable Sum. This is the first Tribute that has been exacted from them since the War began.

The Attention of the Public is at present wholly engrossed by the Negotiation for Peace now depending. While the Generality of the People, from Motives of Humanity and true Policy, wish for a speedy and honourable Conclusion to the War, there are not wanting some, who pretend to dislike a Peace on any Terms whatever. These, it would seem, are actuated either by Views of private Interest, misguided Politics, or other Causes, which, perhaps, they will not chuse to avow. But the true Sense of the Nation will soon be best learnt from the Voice of their Representatives in Parliament.——Mean while, the Confidence of the People in the Purity of his Majesty's Intentions, in his Zeal for the Glory and Prosperity of his Kingdom, and in his Steadiness in pursuing the Measures that are most likely to procure to all his Subjects solid and permanent Happiness, is apparently universal and unbounded. How little Reason is there, then, to apprehend, that the Ministry, whatever may have been suggested to the contrary, will ever think of sacrificing, upon this Occasion, any of the true Interests of their Country. At last, we do not find they have hitherto given us any Cause to suspect their Integrity. We may therefore venture to assure our Readers, and we think we do it upon solid Grounds, that the general Tranquility of Europe, so long, and so cruelly disturbed, will be quickly restored; that in this glorious and much-desired Work we shall bear a noble and distinguished Part; and that this bloody and expensive War will be succeeded by a Period of Felicity, Repose, and Prosperity, hitherto unequalled, which, if we are not wanting to ourselves, will make this happy Island the Envy and Desire of the whole Earth.

Oct. 26. By the Flanders Mail, which is arrived since our last, we have received the following Account from Paris.

"It was on the 20th of last Month, that the Ceremony of Degrading Mr. Nadau, late Governor of Guadaloupe, and M. de la Botterie, Major of the Forces in that Island, was performed at Rochefort, in Presence of all the Marines, drawn out on the Parade before the Barracks. When the Sentence was Read, in which the Articles of the Charge were rehearsed, at each Article he cried out, THAT IS FALSE; and protesting his Innocence, imprecated God's Vengeance on his Accusers. He was informed that the King had ordered him to be Degraded from the Rank of a Gentleman, and to lose all his Titles and Honours, Him and his Posterity; his Coat-armour to be erased; and that he should never more wear a Sword. At this last Article of the Sentence, Mr. Nadau, enraged to the highest Degree, called out, What ignominious Treatment for a Man of Honour! How many brave Men have served it more than I! It is made a Crime in me to surrender Guadaloupe: I had only 1100 Men; and Martinico was given up with 5000.—A Serjeant then proceeded to the Degradation, and the Defacing of his Arms; broke his Sword, and threw the Pieces at his Feet, and took off his Ribbon with the Cross of St. Lewis. M. de la Botterie, who was treated in the same Manner, behaved with more Resignation."

Oct. 28. A French Frigate of 16 Guns, is taken by one of our Men of War, and carried into Galway.

The Liverpool Man of War has also taken a Spanish Privateer, and carried her into Milford.

M. Nadau du Treil, late Governor of Guadaloupe, and M. de la Botterie, the French King's late Lieutenant in Basseterre, were both ordered, after their Degradation, to be confined for Life in the Island of St. Margaret.

Oct. 30. Our Accounts from the Havannah remark, that there are 45 Commanders of Ships concerned in the Claims of Prize-Money, and that they carried out with them new Instructions for the Division, of what Treasure should be taken there, which was as follows:

One-third to the Flag and General Officers, of which Sir George Pocock, and Lord Albemarle, were to have each One-fifth, the other Three fifths to the Commodore and the rest of the General Officers.

One-third to the Captains, Officers and Men belonging to the Fleet, to be shared in Classes in the usual Manner by Eights.

One-third to the Colonels, Officers and Men belonging to the Army.

Nov. 6. Wednesday WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; with his Lady, set out for Portsmouth, to embark for his Government of New-Jersey.

Our Advices from India inform us, that the English have made themselves Masters of two Ports belonging to the Rajas of the Country, in which Enterprise we have lost a Number of Men.

It is said, that on Account of some Circumstances attending a late Resignation, the King hath ordered the Name of a noble Duke to be struck off the List of Privy Councellors.

By a Letter from Madrass, dated April 7, 1762, the British Squadron was then there, but Admiral Cornish was to sail the next Day to Trincomall, on the Island of Ceylon, with the Norfolk, Lenox, Grafton, Elizabeth and Weymouth, in order to give them a good Heel.—Captain Tinker was on a separate Cruize with four Sail.

Nov. 9. We are informed, that all the Fortifications of the French Settlements in the East-Indies are entirely demolished; even the French Governor's Palace at Pondicherry, a most superb Building, the finest ever erected in that Quarter of the World.

The King of Prussia hath demanded of the City of Leipsick 15,000 Recruits, or an Equivalent in Money.

As the Searching British Ships by the Spaniards in the West-Indies, was the sole Occasion of the last War, which after spending above 30 Millions to no Purpose, we concluded upon most dishonourable Terms, it is hoped, and expected, that in the Treaty now depending with Spain, it shall be stipulated, that NO SEARCH shall ever be attempted, on any Pretence whatever.

By a Letter lately received from Germany, we learn, that the Marquis of Granby had already expended no less than 60,000 l. of his private Fortune, in the Relief of the Soldiers under his Command.—A very uncommon Instance of Generosity, but which will be easily credited by those who are acquainted with his Lordship's humane and benevolent Disposition.

Nov. 11. It is said that a great Number of Orders for Flour, and other Goods, are already come to several Merchants, immediately to be complied with, as soon as the Ports are opened between England and France; which it is expected will be in a few Days.

It is said, that the French have sent Orders to all their Sea Ports to stop the Privateers sailing, and to prevent any new Commissions being given.

An Order was sent down Yesterday to the regulating Captains to break up their several Rendezvous.

We hear that Orders are sent to stop the Embarking any more Forces from Ireland for Portugal.

At the Conclusion of the last War, in 1748, the News of the Preliminaries being signed arrived at the Duke of Newcastle's Office the 24th of April. On the 9th of May a Cessation of Arms was proclaimed at the Royal Exchange. The definitive Treaty was signed on the 18th of October. On the 2d of February, 1749, Peace was proclaimed at London. April 25th was the Day observed as a General Thanksgiving. And on the 27th of April the Grand Fireworks were played off in the Green Park.

Tuesday as the several Persons of Distinction were going to Guild-hall, the Mob behaved exactly consistent with themselves, by hissing and abusing some, and applauding others, without knowing any true Reason for their Favour or Dislike.

We hear that the Rage of Resigning, which was said to have got abroad, has suddenly stopt. Intimation, it is whispered, was given to the Foremost of the Number who intended a Secession, that Conscience, or Honour, could not have dictated a Resignation of one Place, that had no Connection with Public Business, without dictating a Resignation of all; and the more lucrative they were, the more meritorious would be the Relinquishing of them; and that therefore the Resignation of one Place would be considered as a Resignation of all. Upon which the proffered Resignation was prudently retracted with as good a Grace as it could be done.

Nov. 13. The King of Spain having lost his large Stock of Tobacco by the surrender of the Havannah, 172,850 lb. of Tobacco was Shipped off Yesterday and the Day before, from hence for Cadiz, to supply the Farmers who have contracted with the Spanish Government for furnishing them with that Commodity till they can get it from America.

Nov. 16. We hear that Application is made to the States of Holland, for Leave for our Troops to pass through their Territory in their Way Home. It is thought great Part of them will be here before Christmas. The Marquis of Granby, and several other General Officers, are expected in about a Fortnight.

Fifty Thousand Pounds worth of Canada Furs have lately arrived, which is a strong Proof how much the pretended Account of the Produce of that Country is to be depended upon.

Nov. 18. It is reported that the Right Hon. the Marquis of Granby will, on his Arrival in England, be nominated and appointed a Field Marshal, and Captain-General of the King's Forces in South Britain, in the Room of Field Marshal Ligonier, who resigns.

Nov. 20. It is said Passes, signed by the Duke de Nivernois, are making out for our Ships to pass and repass the Seas unmolested by the French till the Peace is settled.

Extract of a Letter from our Army in Germany.

"Some Time after the Surrender of Cassel, the Allied Army attacked and took a Party of the French near Ziegenhayn, and our Cannon are now playing against that Place; such a Chain of Successes has made a glorious Campaign; we are soon to besiege Marburgh."

We hear that Yesterday an Order was sent down to the proper Officer in the Dock-Yard at Chatham, to prepare Ground Tackle, &c. for Ninety Men of War, that are soon expected up the River Medway, to be laid up in Ordinary.

The Earl of Egmont (in 1741 Lord Perceval) has kissed the King's Hand on being appointed joint Postmaster-General with Mr. Hambden, in the Room of the Earl of Besborough.

Nov. 23. Orders were last Friday sent to the Dock-Yards at Deptford and Chatham, &c. that the Men should work only common Hours, and that all Persons who have a Mind to have their Discharges, might have them by applying for them, and be paid their full Wages to the Time.

All the large Men of War at Portsmouth are ordered into the Harbour; and the small ones, Sloops, &c. are to be got ready as fast as possible for cruising.

They write from Cadiz, and other Ports in Spain, that all the warlike Preparations are of a sudden countermanded; that the Forces which were assembling on the Coast of Gallicia, have Orders to return into Quarters; and that several Regiments of Militia are dismissed.

We are informed, that in the Preliminaries of Peace agreed on between France, Spain, and Great-Britain, it is ſtipulated, that the former ſhall make full Satisfaction for the Support of the French Priſoners that have been confined in this Kingdom during the War.

M. de Lally, late Governor of Pondicherry, was arreſted the fifth Inſtant, at Fontainbleau, with two other Perſons, their Names unknown, that were in his Company, and ſent to the Baſtile.

There are Letters by this Day's Mail which adviſe, that a Report was current at the Hague, when the Poſt came away, that 80,000 Turks were arrived on the Frontiers of Hungary, and only waited for the Grand Signior's Orders to begin their Operations.

A Letter from Paris of the 12th ſays, that no leſs than 12 Perſons were beheaded in the Baſtile the Week before, and that three more had been taken into Cuſtody. It is certain that General Lally was arreſted and ſent to the Baſtile on the 4th, the Day after the Preliminaries were ſigned, to anſwer the Charge brought againſt him by the French Eaſt-India Company. The Dutch Gazettes ſay, he could not be arreſted ſooner, becauſe he was England's Priſoner. The Intendant of Canada was condemned to be hanged, for Malverſation; but the French King changed his Sentence into perpetual Impriſonment.

Laſt Friday extra-work ceaſed in the Dock-yard at Portſmouth.

We hear a certain Great Commoner has declared his Intentions of being concerned in no Party whatever; but, like a true-born Engliſhman, will ſpeak his Sentiments before an auguſt Aſſembly, without Favour or Partiality to any Perſon whatever.

Extract of a Letter from Liſbon, dated October 28.

"We have gained ſome Advantages over the Spaniards, particularly at Villa Velha; and it is reported that about 7000 of the Enemy were made Priſoners there without fighting, being ſurprized and ſurrounded by the Troops commanded by the Generals Townſhend and Burgoyne, and in a few Days we expect them down here, Orders being given for all Dwellers in the Caſtle of this City to retire from it, and provide for themſelves Houſes elſewhere.

Nov. 27. Thurſday laſt his Majeſty was attended to the Houſe of Lords, in His magnificent new State Coach, by his Grace the Duke of Rutland, and the Earl of Huntingdon. The Carriage of the Coach is compoſed of four Tritons, who ſupport the Body by Cables faſtened to the Roots of their Fins. The two placed on the Front of the Carriage, bear the Driver on their Shoulders, and are repreſented in the Action of ſounding Shells, to announce the approach of the Monarch of the Sea; and thoſe on the back Part, carry the imperial Faſces, topt with Tridents, inſtead of the ancient Axes. The Driver's Foot-board is a large ſcollop Shell, ſupported by Bunches of Reeds, and other marine Plants. The Pole repreſents a Bundle of Lances, and the Wheels are imitated from thoſe of the antient triumphal Chariots. The Body of the Coach is compoſed of eight Palm-trees, which, branching out at the Top, ſuſtain the Roof. The four angular Trees are loaded with Trophies, alluſive to the Victories obtained by Britain during the Courſe of the preſent glorious War. On the Center of the Roof ſtand three Boys, repreſenting the Genii of England, Scotland and Ireland, ſupporting on their Heads the Imperial Crown, and holding in their Hands the Scepter, the Sword of State, and Enſigns of Knighthood: Their Bodies are adorned with Feſtoons of Laurel, which fall from thence towards the four Corners of the Roof. The Intervals between the Palm-Trees, which form the Body of the Coach, are filled in the upper Parts with Plates of Glaſs, and below with Pannels, adorned with Paintings. On the Front Pannel is repreſented BRITANNIA, ſeated on a Throne, holding in her Hand a Staff of Liberty, attended by Religion, Juſtice, Wiſdom, Valour, Fortitude, and Victory, preſenting her with a Garland of Laurel: On the back Pannel, Neptune, iſſuing from his Palace, drawn by Sea-horſes, and attended by the Winds, the Rivers, Tritons, Naiads, &c. bringing the Tribute of the World to the Britiſh Shore. On one of the Doors are repreſented Mars, Minerva, and Mercury, ſupporting the Imperial Crown of Britain; and on the other, Induſtry and Ingenuity, giving a Cornucopia to the Genius of England. The other four Pannels repreſent the Liberal Arts and Sciences protected; Hiſtory recording the Reports of Fame; and Peace burning the Implements of War. The Inſide of the Coach is lined with Crimſon Velvet, richly embroidered with Gold. All the Wood-work is triple gilt, and all the Paintings highly varniſhed. The Harneſs is of Crimſon Velvet, adorned with Buckles, and other Embelliſhments of Silver gilt; and the Saddle-cloths are of blue Velvet embroidered and fringed with Gold.—This magnificent Work was deſigned by Mr. Chambers, Architect to his Majeſty, and executed under his Inſpection; the Carving by Mr. Wilton, Sculptor to the King; the Painting by Mr. Chipriani; the Chaſing by Mr. Coit; the Coach-work by Mr. Butler; the Embroidery by Mr. Barrett; the Gilding by Mr. Pujolas; the Varniſhing by Mr. Anſel; and the Harneſs by Mr. Ringſtead.

His Majeſty was ſaluted all the Way, from St. James's to the Parliament-Houſe, with the joyful Acclamations of the moſt numerous Concourſe of People, perhaps, ever aſſembled on ſuch an Occaſion. The Number of Coaches and Chariots was ſo great, that they reached from the Middle of Pall Mall to the Houſe of Lords; and altho' his Majeſty came out of the Houſe again at Two o'Clock, they occaſioned ſuch frequent Stoppages, that his Majeſty did not enter the Park on his Return till Three.

An Order is arrived at Plymouth to diſcharge the Tenders employed in impreſſing Men.

The New-England Fleet paſſed by Plymouth laſt Tueſday.

Laſt Wedneſday the Duke de Nivernois, Ambaſſador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from the moſt Chriſtian King, had an Audience of his Majeſty, to deliver his Credentials; to which he was introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Egremont, Secretary of State for the Southern Department, and conducted by Sir Clement Cotterell Dormer, Maſter of the Ceremonies. On this Occaſion his Excellency made the following Speech to his Majeſty:

"SIR,

"A cordial Reconciliation between two powerful Monarchs, formed to love each other; a permanent Union of Syſtem between two great Courts, attracted to one another by their Intereſts rightly underſtood; and a ſincere and laſting Conjunction of two reſpectable Nations, whom unhappy Prejudices have too long divided; form the glorious Æra of the Commencement of your Majeſty's Reign: And this Æra will, at the ſame Time, be that of Happineſs reſtored to the four Quarters of the World. Your Majeſty's Name, your Glory, and your Virtues, will be inſeparably joined in Hiſtory, with univerſal Felicity; and Poſterity will there read, with Sentiments of Reſpect, that Treaty, which will be diſtinguiſhed, above all others, by good Faith, without Equivocation, and by permanent Stability.

"Permit me, Sir, to felicitate myſelf at your Feet, on being choſen by the King, my Maſter, to ſerve, between your Majeſty and him, as the Organ of the noble Sentiments of two Hearts ſo worthy of each other, and to be employed in this bleſſed Work, which enſures your Majeſty's Glory, by giving Happineſs to the whole World."

NEW-YORK, February 3.

Jacobſon then left the Fleet, and ſtood to the Weſtward, and imagines the reſt returned with the Man of War.

PHILADELPHIA, February 10.

By a Letter from a Gentleman, who went Paſſenger in the Privateer Snow MONCKTON, Capt. Byrn, from this Port, we have the following Account of the Loſs of that Snow, on her Paſſage to Martinico.

Extract of a Letter from St. Pierres, in Martinico, December 30. 1762.

"I am, through the Providence of God, again arrived on Terra Firma, after the moſt diſagreeable Scenes I ever went through, and eſcaping the moſt imminent and dreadful Danger the Mind can form an Idea of; the Particulars of our unhappy Cataſtrophe you have as follows. On Tueſday Morning, the 14th Inſtant, at Six o'Clock, in Lat. 16, 20. and Long. 59. 40. being aſleep, as were all the Paſſengers, and the Captain; a Squall of Wind took the Snow, and laid her down as far as the Main Hatches, which awaked me in my Cot, as it then hung along by the Cieling of the Cabbin; and hearing the Men on Deck calling out, we were ſinking, the Dead-Lights, Quarter-Lights, the lee Cabbin Gun Port being laſhed in, the Weather one being providentially unlaſhed, to let in the freſh Air, I got out upon the Side, in my Shirt, through the Gun Port, my Cot being flung over the Gun; but had not been above one Minute on the Side, before the Veſſel went down Head foremoſt, as far as the Main Shrouds, when ſeeing a Hencoop floating along Side, I jumped into the Sea, and immediately the Veſſel ſunk: We had in Company with us, a Brig called the Unity, Capt. Faris, who came out with us, having been ſeparated from the Snow Gordon, a Fortnight before, the Brig was about a Mile, or near it, ahead of us when the Veſſel went down, and as ſhe was not three Minutes from the Time the Squall took her till ſhe was out of Sight, there was no Time to fire a Gun, or give any Signal of Diſtreſs, but by our Cries, which ſhe was too far off to hear, and was about a League ahead before ſhe miſſed us, and then could not be certain in what Place we went down; before I was one Moment on the Hencoop, there were eight or ten along with me, with the Captain, the Weight of which turned the Coop as faſt as you could turn a Wheel in the Water; but I was enabled, thro' the Goodneſs of God, to get round as faſt as any, and before moſt of them, all of whom ſunk by Degrees, but one Man, and myſelf, when we got one on each Side, and then could keep ourſelves free from any Water; but the dreadful Screams of the poor Wretches drowning, and others calling for Aſſiſtance, were ſuch as no Man can form a juſt Idea of, without ſeeing it. At laſt the Brig put about, and ſtood for us; but after ſhe had come within about a Mile of us, they apprehended ſhe had run beyond us, and put about again, away from us. At that Moment the Scene redoubled the Horror of the former, as there then appeared no Means of our being preſerved. Nothing could equal the Horror of our Situation! In the Midſt of the Ocean, ſurrounded by dead Bodies floating, and others drowning. Numbers, I believe, gave up all Hopes, quit their Holds, and were drowned, by their Deſpair of Relief; however, I ſtill had my Confidence in God, that he would preſerve me, and encouraged my Companion to have the ſame. In about an Hour more, the Brig put about again, and ſtood for us, which gave us freſh Confidence and Spirits, and, after ſome Time, ſhe put out her Boat, and took up as many of us as ſhe could hold, among which I was, being then naked as I was born, having taken my Shirt off in the Water, being bruiſed in many Places. On our being put on board, the Boat was ſent off again, and brought all that were then alive, on board, which amounted to 42 Souls, 55 having periſhed. I was about Three Hours and an Half in the Water before I was taken up; not one Article was ſaved from the Snow, as ſhe went down ſo quick, nothing floated out of her, they could not even get the Barge out; the ſmall Boat floated over the Booms, but ſo many jumped into her, that ſhe filled immediately, however 16 were ſaved by holding by the Gunwale; thoſe ſaved were Mr. Brown, a French Captain, and myſelf, Paſſengers, the ſecond and third Lieutenants, the Gunner, and Boatſwain; the reſt Foremaſtmen. Drowned were, Mr. Philips, a Paſſenger, the Captain, firſt Lieut. Maſter, Doctor, and firſt Prize-Maſter; the other Foremaſtmen, and Petty Officers. Captain Farr and his Crew behaved exceeding well, and did every Thing in their Power to ſave the People, and treated us with great Friendſhip while we were on board."

The Land-Carriage from Pinkney's Warehouſe, at the Little Falls, which is the higheſt Tide Water of Patowmack, to the Great Falls, does not exceed 12 Miles; and the Manufactures of Great-Britain may be tranſported by the Patowmack to the Ohio, and it's Produce or Furs remitted through the ſame Channel, with only 90 Miles Land-Carriage at the moſt.

Fort Cumberland is about 115 Miles from Pittſburg, 30 from Fort Bedford, 60 from Winchester, Land-Carriage, good Waggon Roads, and 100 Miles Water-Carriage from the Mouth of Conococheague Creek in Maryland.
